Andrew Smith, MD

Board Certified General Surgeon

Particular interest in emergent surgery

Copley's board-certified general surgeons offer a compassionate and efficient system of care, providing comprehensive evaluation, treatment, and surgical expertise. We listen and focus on you as a whole person, collaborating with you and your referring physician to create a treatment plan to meet your individual needs. Attuned to the latest research and techniques, our expert surgeons perform state-of-the-art surgeries and procedures with a focus on laparoscopic and minimally invasive approaches.

We perform both elective and emergent surgeries. Elective surgery is planned for and scheduled in advance and includes consulting with your referring physician. Emergent surgery is usually the result of a medical emergency and is most often referred from an Emergency Department physician, with pertinent follow-up with your primary care physician.

Because Copley Hospital is small, we can offer personalized care throughout your surgery, including preparation and recovery. Our surgical care team focuses on patient education to ensure you understand your treatment options and the details of your surgical procedure and recovery.
